Based on these provisions, the parties were found to have made an express choice of English law to govern the arbitration agreement. This conclusion was reinforced by the arbitration clause itself, which provided, at Article 14(3), that: “The arbitrator(s) shall apply the provisions contained in the Agreement”. The court construed this as requiring the arbitrator to apply all the provisions, including the English governing law clause, not just to substantive disputes but also to matters ...

e. Arbitration, a form of alternative dispute resolution (ADR), is a way to resolve disputes outside the courts. The dispute will be decided by one or more persons (the 'arbitrators', 'arbiters' or 'arbitral tribunal'), which renders the 'arbitration award'. An arbitration award is legally binding on both sides and enforceable in the courts. Arbitration is often used for the resolution of commercial disputes, particularly in the context of international commercial transactions.
